TROOPS CALLED IN ILLINOIS RIOT

Italian Beaten And Homes Burned By Rioters In West Frankfort—Mobs Of Two Boys Started The Rioting.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Marion, Ill., Aug. 6.—Five companies of Illinois state troopers are hourly expected to reach West Frankfort, a few miles from here today, to take charge of a situation which has outgrown local authorities, caused the deaths of at least five persons, the injury of forty others, and the burning of a score of dwellings.

Rioting between enraged citizens and Italian residents began late last night and continued sporadically throughout the night. It came as the outgrowth of public indignation over the murder of two boys, Tony Hempel, 13, and Amiel Calceira, 19, whose bodies were discovered here two days ago. They had been brutally killed and their bodies mutilated.

West Frankfort was at the mercy of a mob of several thousand persons throughout the night. Italians were beaten wherever they could be found, and the torch was applied freely to their homes.

The reign of lawlessness began with the arrest of a Sicilian, Settino Senese, charged with the murder of the two boys. When word was spread around that the murderer of the two boys had been captured, a mob gathered in front of the jail. Several deputies, however, had anticipated such action and they spirited their prisoner away to an unknown place. The mob, finding the Italian gone, dispersed, muttering.

Fanned by the flame of general indignation, it formed again late last night, many times stronger than originally, and then began a reign of disorder and riot that did not end until an early hour this morning.

Seeing that the situation was becoming desperate, Mayor L. Fox telegraphed Governor Frank O. Lowden at Springfield:

"Race riot here. Italian people are being assaulted and their property destroyed. Situation out of control of city and officers. Troops needed at once."

Governor Lowden responded shortly after midnight, by ordering the companies of the Ninth Illinois Infantry to proceed at once and take charge of the situation. The troops are commanded by Major W. E. Satterfield. Part of them are coming from Springfield, and part from Cairo.

LARCENY CHARGED

Against Former Chambermaid at Stony Brook House.

The court of Justice Waggoner was a lively place this morning, with the trial of Levine & Son's Stony Brook House at Palenville, who were present to identify articles taken from the trunk of a chambermaid, Mrs. Marie H. Kelly, who left the house yesterday afternoon in a hired taxi bus. After her departure, Miss Anna Koplik of Brooklyn announced that the young woman had been under suspicion and that several articles were missing from the hotel. The result was the hurried arrival at the court of Edgar Sax in his Cadillac with the elder Levine and Harry Malowitz in his Ford, with the younger Levine and Miss Sylvia Levine of New York. Chief Byron and Officer Fitzsimmons were taken in the cars and a hurried run made to Satterfield, where Mrs. Kelly was arrested on board a West Shore train for New York which was about to pull out of the station. Miss Levine claimed ownership of a fur cape the chambermaid was wearing. The latter was taken in charge and brought to Catskill, where Justice Waggoner committed her to the county jail to await a hearing.

The hearing was held this morning in Justice Waggoner's court. The older Levine stated to the Catskill reporter that between $800 and $900 worth of articles belonging to his guests were claimed to be missing. These included wrist watches, articles of jewelry, money, neckties, fur coats, silk stockings, silk shirts, suits, table cloths, quilts and other articles. A number of the articles were identified by the guests in the room. Miss Anna Koplik of Brooklyn stated that she had missed two $5 bills.

MOB RULES DENVER DURING THE NIGHT

Newspaper Plant Wrecked By Rioters Who Did Not Agree With Its Policy—Riot An Outgrowth Of Street Car Striking.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Denver, Aug. 6.—After a night of rioting and fighting, in which two men were killed, scores injured and the office of the Denver Post partly demolished, local authorities gained control of the disorders growing out of the street car strike here at an early hour today.

State troops may be called out today to take control of the situation. Governor Shoup has been requested to order out the soldiers, but after a conference with Mayor Bailey, it was decided to defer action.

Denver was under mob rule the greater part of the night. Two men were killed, two probably fatally wounded and scores were injured in the hours of rioting, in addition to the property damage done.

Among the injured is Chief of Police Armstrong.

Members of shots were fired. The trouble has been brewing since the street car strike was called Sunday. It came to a head last night when strike breakers, of whom there are 500 in the city, attempted to operate the cars. Stones and bricks were thrown at the cars, shots were fired and the strikebreaking crowds dragged from their posts and beaten.

The crowds grew as the disorder became more general and then a section moved down on the Denver Post building. The strikers claimed that the Post was against them.

Reaching the building, a number of stones were hurled through the windows. Employees of the Post ran up an American flag over the building, causing a few minutes' cessation of the fusillade. It was only a momentary halt, however, for the crowd, urged on by the rouser element, surged forward, breaking down the doors and proceeded to create chaos throughout the plant.

All the furniture in the business office was wrecked, weights and heavy missiles were thrown into the linotype machines and fires started under the presses.

A quantity of print paper was destroyed. Every window in the editorial and business offices was smashed. Some of the furniture was hurled into the street.

After a preliminary survey of the wreckage, employees of the paper said they thought it possible to get out a paper today.

The dead have been identified as A. G. Brown and John Blake, a former soldier. The injured include ten policeman and 19 strike breakers.

The most serious outbreak occurred after midnight at the South Side car barns where the two killings occurred. A mob of 1,500 men marched on the barns where there were 150 strikebreakers, heavily armed.

Most of the strikebreakers were atop armored cars. When some of the crowd opened fire with a fusillade of rocks, the strikebreakers opened fire with rifles and revolvers. At the first volley, four of the crowd dropped. A second volley was fired. The crowd hastily left, leaving on the ground two dead and a dozen injured.

Tramway officials declared today that an attempt would be made to resume passenger service during the day. Additional strike breakers are expected to reinforce those already here.

SUNDAY EVENING OUTDOOR SERVICE

The usual Sunday evening open air devotional service will be held at the corner of Pine Grove Avenue and Broadway, August 8th, at 7:45 o'clock, with Y. S. Sanford, general secretary of the Kingston Y. M. C. A., as the chief speaker. Mr. Sanford, a graduate of Moody School, Mount Vernon, Mass., and a "Y" worker on the war, will lead in the service. An open air Gospel will also be sung by a large chorus.

Nearly 300 people attended last Sunday's service and more will be available for an even larger number the coming Sunday.

Preached at Age of Six.

Rev. J. L. Warkentin, the youngest pastor of the National Baptist convention, has accepted the call of the National Baptist Church of Hudson to be its pastor. He is only 21 years old and began preaching at the age of 6. The members of the Hudson church are much pleased with their new pastor, with whom they are confident friends may be raised to considerable numbers.

Planned for Age of Six.

At the close of the prayer at 10:30 on Thursday evening, Captain Ward, after over thirty years of service as a prison officer, was released from his post. The officers and employees presented him with a gold-headed cane.

RUSSIA NEEDS NO WAR FUNDS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, August 6.—Allied military experts point out today that Russia has the advantage of being able to wage war without finances.

It is estimated that it would cost an allied nation $10,000,000 a day to conduct war of the gigantic scale on which Russia is now fighting. As the Soviet controls all the Russian factories, railways and most of the food stocks, she is not compelled to float war loans to buy supplies, even if it were possible for her to do so.

SOVIET REPLY UNSATISFACTORY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 6.—Active diplomatic exchanges are proceeding between London and Paris today over the next allied move to check the Russian advance and prevent a spread of warfare in Europe, following receipt of the Soviet government's unsatisfactory reply to the British note of Tuesday.

The outstanding elements of the Russo-Polish situation today were: 1. Orders have been given to the British navy to impose a drastic blockade on Russia, according to the Chronicle, and the Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party, states that the British North Sea fleet has already been ordered to the Baltic.

2. The Russian drive on Warsaw has slowed down, according to a news agency dispatch from Warsaw, which said:

"The Bolshevik offensive on the Bug river was arrested. The Russians were thrown back on the Serezh river. The new Polish army in the field is waging a successful offensive at the junction of the Bug and Narew rivers, where the Russian front lies nearest to the Polish capital."

3. The Soviet government in reply to the British protest against the continued advance into Poland is reported to have confirmed the fears of British officials that Moscow can not check the Red Army's advance.

4. The German government has reiterated its policy of neutrality and will not allow the allies to send German troops over German soil to Poland.

"The immediate effect of the Russian note is to emphasize the importance of a resumption of armistice negotiations by the Poles," said the Daily News.

"It seems certain that the Reds will cease their advance the moment the truce is signed, but otherwise they will be in Warsaw within a week's time."

It is believed that a Polish delegation has already gone to Minsk to treat with the Russians.

The new declaration by Dr. Walter Von Simons, German foreign secretary, in the national assembly, that Germany will maintain neutrality in the Russo-Polish war resulted from reports that the French were concentrating troops in the Strasbourg and Belfort areas, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin. Dr. Von Simons threatened the disarmament of the French troops if they "violate German neutrality."

A special commission has been appointed at Berlin to advise the government in eastern European affairs.

The attitude of the Germans in the districts occupied by French, British and American troops, over the possibility of sending allied forces through Germany to Poland, is described as passive.

FRANCE WILL NOT SEND TROOPS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Aug. 6.—France will not attempt to send troops to Poland, according to the newspaper. Matin today, because it is estimated that it would take a month for any considerable force to reach the Russo-Polish battlefield.

"If troops were sent they would necessarily be numerous to avoid the loss of French prestige through the defeat of the full force," said the Matin.

The Journal contends that a more drastic blockade of Russia will not hurt the Bolsheviks.

"The Bolshevik will launch at any threat to refuse resumption of commercial relations," said the newspaper. "The Russians will have plenty of trade with Germany."

"If England, United States, France and Italy, would send two or three divisions each they could easily mop up the Russian advance," said Gustave Herve, writing in the newspaper Liberte.

GAS REPAIRS ARE PROGRESSING

Fire Department Helps Pump Out 400,000 Gallons of Water as First Step Toward Necessary Repairs.

Inquiry at the gas office today brings forth the information that reasonable progress is being made toward completion of repairs of the gas holder which was put out of commission by the accident on Tuesday night.

The first step necessary in undertaking the repairs was to pump out the water in the brick tank. The brick tank is sunk in the ground about 22 feet, it is approximately 50 feet in diameter and holds upwards of 400,000 gallons of water. Through the courtesy of the Kingston fire department the motor pump was put into service on Wednesday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock and pumped continuously until Wednesday evening at 9:20 o'clock.

The pumping was again started at 9:50 o'clock on Thursday morning and at 11:30 o'clock last night the work of removing the water was completed. The next step will be to make a thorough examination of the holder, both inside and out, and in order to do this it will be necessary for men to go down inside of the steel tank. Report on the condition will then permit of commencement of the repairs to the steel tank which is badly bent and torn.

The accident has proven a serious one from a great many standpoints inasmuch as it interferes somewhat with the delivery of first-class gas service during the heavy periods of use, as at lunch time and dinner time in the evening. The company has previously requested that all gas users try to curtail at these times as much as possible, using only such gas as is absolutely necessary. If this co-operation can be obtained from the customers no real inconvenience will be experienced by them as temporary expedients have been put into operation to insure continuation of the supply in the up-town section provided that the consumers will just use the gas requested.

The holder is one of 50,000 cubic feet capacity and at the time of the accident was full of gas. Not only did this supply of gas escape into the air but an approximate amount of 25,000 feet of gas between the time the accident occurred and it was possible to get men on the job to shut the valves. This represented a loss of about 75,000 cubic feet of gas.

In order to insure the maximum speed on repairs the company has obtained the services of the firm who originally built the holder and their representative arrived in Kingston yesterday morning. He made a general examination and today expects to have his repair gang here to undertake the work. This work will take at least ten days and it is not contemplated that the holder will be put back into service before the middle of August, until which time the company asks the co-operation of its patrons to the end that they use gas sparingly during the luncheon and dinner periods. If this is done there will be gas for everybody.

The company wishes to express its appreciation of the courtesy and consideration extended by the residents of St. James Court who were undoubtedly somewhat inconvenienced by the accident and disturbed possibly by the activity of the men making the preliminary repairs and particularly by the continued operation of the fire engine pump.

WRANGLER TAKES 40,000 PRISONERS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 6.—Forty thousand prisoners have been captured by General Wrangel's anti-Bolshevik army on the Crimean battle front, according to a news agency dispatch from Constantinople today.

The forces of General Wrangel were reported to have decisively defeated the Reds, capturing much booty in addition to prisoners.

Fire at Washington.

A fire, believed to be Benjamin Elwood, who lives in Grand street, Washington, was totally destroyed by fire early today. A fire truck was called out, but the fire was too far gone to save the building. The fire was caused by a gas leak, but the cause has not been determined. The loss is estimated at over $1,000, with no insurance.

SCHOOL COLLECTOR GETS IN TROUBLE

Town of Ulster Again Furnishes Collector Who Is Charged With Misappropriating Money—Waives Examination And Goes To Jail.

School District No. 8 of the town of Ulster is having more trouble with its school moneys, as a result of which Oliver J. Auchmoody, who has been collector for the past year, was arrested on Thursday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by William W. Van Keuren, charging him with grand larceny in the second degree, alleging that he has misappropriated $588 of school moneys belonging to the district.

Auchmoody was brought to the court house early Thursday evening and later was taken before Justice of the Peace Charles Carle at Katrine, where he first demanded a jury trial, but after being informed that a jury trial could not be had there, he waived examination and was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

School District No. 8 of the town of Ulster contains that part of the town which formerly formed part of the old Kingston School District, when the city schools were consolidated, the part of the old Kingston School District which lies outside the city limits was created into a new district, known as District No. 8. The boys and girls of the district formerly had attended the grade schools of the old Kingston School District, and the Kingston Academy, and there is not a school house in the district. The district formerly had paid school taxes to the collector of the Kingston School District, but the act consolidating the city schools provided that pupils of the town of Ulster, which had belonged to the old Kingston School District should receive their education in the city schools, and the district should pay tuition to the board of education of the city of Kingston for such boys and girls as attended the Kingston schools.

Fred Will, who was collector of District No. 8, was indicted several years ago for misappropriating school moneys of the district, but later made good the amount of the shortage. For the next two years the board of education had difficulty in having its tuition bill against the district paid by Collector Elmer Cure, but the bill finally was paid. Last year Mr. Auchmoody was elected collector, and furnished a surety company bond.

Some years ago the town of Ulster had various financial troubles but matters were adjusted satisfactorily, but for several years School District No. 8 has furnished a fertile field for trouble over public moneys.

At the hearing before Justice of the Peace Carle, Thursday evening, District Attorney Traver and Assistant District Attorney Brooks appeared for The People. Auchmoody was not represented by counsel but it is understood that he had consulted counsel when Mr. Van Keuren began an investigation of the school money situation of the district some time ago.

HEARING BEFORE REFEREE

Claim For Compensation of Lawyer Up For Determination.

A hearing was had on Thursday before Daniel B. Deyo, as referee, in the matter of the claim of Arthur A. IRISH MEMBER STARTS UPROAR

Nationalists in Parliament Accuse Government of "Concocting War Against Russia"—Ordered To Leave The House.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 6.—Uproar broke out in the House of Commons this afternoon, when Joseph Devlin, an Irish Nationalist member, openly accused Lloyd-George of "concocting war against Russia." The session was suspended.

Devlin was ordered by Speaker Lowther to leave the House, following his sensational utterance. The trouble began when Devlin shouted:

"Premier Lloyd-George has declared war on Ireland and now he has gone elsewhere, concocting war against Russia."

Instantly, pandemonium broke out. Above the din, Devlin shouted: "I despise the House of Commons."

The fiery Irish member finally departed, accompanied by other Nationalists and a majority of the Laborites, but not until he had aired further his views of the British government.

When Speaker Lowther first requested Devlin to part, the latter refused, shouting: "Bring on your army of occupation."

AMERICA NOT TO BE INVOLVED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 6.—There is little likelihood of American troops being used in Poland in an attempt to stay the Russian advance, not even the troops already in Europe, according to official belief here today.

News of the fall of Warsaw is expected almost hourly, and it may be that the American legation has already left the Polish capital for Graudenz, northwest on the road to Danzig, as Secretary of State Colby has called Secretary John C. White, charge d'affaires, to leave when he considers the danger imminent.

Instructions have gone out from Washington calling on the embassies in London, Paris and other European capitals to keep the American government informed as rapidly as possible on all phases of the crisis which is admittedly attended by "great confusion" and momentarily subject to great change.

Foreign diplomats here are in constant communication with the state department.

Great pressure is being brought to bear on the American government to participate to the fullest possible extent in the effort now being made by the allied nations to save the situation for Poland, though it is conceded here that little can be done without the consent of congress that would materially aid the Poles in their present peril, the deep interest which this country feels in the Polish boundaries notwithstanding.

Officials generally discredit the idea of the United States joining the allies with arms or men for use in Poland, whatever else may be done. They do not appear sympathetic to sending additional troops to Europe at this time and admit that there are too few already there to be of service, even if America were disposed to use them.

The administration is watching the situation with attention and anxiety, it is understood, but is unwilling to stretch its war time powers in any attempt to cover the situation.

Whatever aid the United States may extend to Poland, it will not include loans by the United States government. It was indicated today, Secretary of the Treasury Houston stated that so far representations have been made to his department looking to financial aid.

Polish representatives have appealed for certain materials and supplies which could not be furnished from this country, it was said.

The Brussels conference at which the European situation and Poland's condition might have been taken up is again indefinitely postponed and officials here are frankly puzzled as to what steps they might be called upon to take or what preparations this country might be expected to make for participation in the conference.

The general financial condition of European countries, Secretary Houston said, appears much more favorable than it did not long ago, leaving aside the conditions of Poland.

Secretary Houston stated out that these countries appear to be pulling themselves on a more sound basis and that conditions might be expected to continue to improve.

Reports that financial statements from the various countries represented at the Brussels conference will be called for are met with the statement from Secretary Houston that this country's outlook is much more favorable. He stated that further negotiations can be looked for from now on, and pointed out that the tendency has been to keep the pressure on credits more generally spread a broad.

"That can be regarded as a healthy sign," he said. "Of course, there will be a demand for more money credits, but to some extent, but that is normal and should be met. It is the normal pressure at all times that used to take care of but I feel that this pressure is being gradually brought to normal."

ENGLAND SEEKS TO AVOID WAR

Will Make Further Concessions to Soviet Russia to Avoid War and Bring About a General Peace Conference.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 6.—Vigorous measures are being taken to prevent allied Europe from being drawn into a new war.

Premier Lloyd-George is expected to announce in the House of Commons on Monday acceptance of the conditions laid down by the Soviet government in its note of Thursday, and that the proposed general peace conference will be held in London after all.

If the parley takes place, Germany and the Baltic states probably will be represented, it was learned this afternoon.

There were active diplomatic exchanges between this city and Paris during the day. It was understood that Premier Millerand of France had not yet accepted Premier Lloyd-George's new attitude, but the British premier is hopeful that the allies will act in complete agreement.

The Soviet's note is understood to pledge Russia to enter into negotiations for a general peace and ask for peace in the Russo-Polish theater.

The cabinet met in Parliament building today to consider the Russian note. Premier Lloyd-George presided.

There were indications that Great Britain would make further concessions to Soviet Russia to avoid war. Officials of the foreign office said it might be possible to accede to the Soviet government's conditions for a general peace conference without the small Russian border states being present. This might be considered tantamount to recognition of the Soviet government, it was pointed out. The British government has been feeling out the sentiment of the British people and found much opposition to war.

Two despatches were received by the foreign office from Warsaw. The Poles were buoyed up over reports of victories over the Bolsheviks in southern Russia, but they fully realize their own peril. Polish government officials were quoted as saying they would fight for the "last inch of soil, like Belgium."

Downing street has refused to give out the text of the Russian note, but it may be published later. Immediately after the receipt of the note there were many expressions of opinion that the Soviet government at Moscow had lost control of the army and could not halt the advance in Poland. This view has been considerably modified. The latest developments indicated this afternoon that Lenin is still in the saddle both as to military and civil affairs.

Reports reached London from Hel-singfors that the Russians are dicker-ing with the Finns for a two months' armistice, to release additional Red troops for Poland. Earlier in the week the Russians broke off commercial negotiations with the Finns at Dorpat.

Washington, Aug. 6.—A petition for a rehearing in the prohibition cases upon which the supreme court handed down a decision June 7, upholding the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act, was filed today in the United States supreme court by Elihu Root and William D. Guthrie, attorneys for Christian Feigenbaum of New Jersey. The petition declares that in a case of such wide interest more complete opportunity for discussion should be allowed and the court should give more complete reasons for its decisions.

Agreed With Betty.

Marjorie tried to play in the ground but her father said up for her. She had been excited for this without effect. So one day her father, catching her in the act, placed her up and gave her a spanking. As he put her down he said: "Now, my young lady, that is just enough of that." "Now my 'da' came the startled cry."

Your Income and Ours

Your income determines how you live, what sort of a house you occupy, and what you can do for those dependent upon you.

In the same way the income of the Telephone Company determines how it shall live and develop, and what sort of service it can give its patrons.

$8,900

If you have a business appraised at $8,900, and your net revenue from that business is only $95.82 a year, you are not doing very well.

Your return is a little more than one cent and seven-tenths of a mill on each dollar.

On such a revenue it would be almost impossible to enlarge your business, no matter how much the public needed that increased service.

New money is scarce and costly and few investors after a look at your meager earnings would care to advance you any money.

$89,000,000

The property of the New York Telephone Company actually in public use in this State outside of New York City has an approximate value of $89,000,000.

Based upon our earnings during the first five months of the year, our net revenue for 1920 under the present rates for service will be only $958,299.

That sum represents a return of one cent and seven-tenths of a mill on each dollar, the same return per dollar as in the smaller business previously mentioned.

A business financially handicapped cannot serve you efficiently.

Our business in New York State is financially handicapped. We cannot remove this handicap unless our revenues are increased. We cannot maintain our present service, nor can we expand our system to meet new requirements unless we are able to secure new capital. We cannot secure new capital unless our financial standing satisfies investors.

To meet the situation we have filed a new schedule of rates which we believe will provide the added revenue required. We believe the public, which realizes the tremendous benefits of adequate telephone service, will support this effort on our part to insure the maintenance and development of a high standard of telephone communication.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUG. 6, 1920

Former Justice Hughes wonders if "constitutional government as here-tofore maintained in this republic could survive another great war even victoriously waged." Mr. Hughes was referring to the continued use of emergency war powers by the administration long after the war has ceased, and the danger to our institutions which autocracy holds.

Senator Beckham of Kentucky has promised Candidate Cox a sweeping state victory in November. To make that promise good the Democratic party must overturn a majority of 40,000 given the Republican candidate for Governor last year. The Kentuckians are very well satisfied with the administration which Governor Morrow has given them, and they are fighting mad respecting the Wilson-Cox plan to internationalize the United States. So Beckham appears to have bitten off more than he can chew.

As a vote getter among people who know him personally, Senator Harding is probably without a peer in the county in which he spent his boyhood and where the people are most familiar with his record in his dealings with his fellowmen. Mr. Harding received 2,411 votes in 1916 for his opponent, or a majority of more than nine to one. In his old home precinct he received the vote of every citizen who went to the polls. Senator Harding has demonstrated that there are exceptions to the old rule that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country.

Cox, who is absolutely at one with the President, is as forceful as the president in giving assurance of fulfillment of pledges, though he uses different language. The Wilson assurance was that "our platform pledges are not molasses to catch flies; they are made to be kept while in office as well as to be relied upon during the campaign." And he proceeded to break practically every pledge the platform made. Mr. Cox says "the platform of the Democratic party is a promissory note. I shall see that it is paid in full." Possibly some of Mr. Wilson's molasses will get smeared on the note so that it will be illegible by 1921. But that is immaterial, the country is not going to call upon Mr. Cox to fulfill any pledges.

AMERICA REMEMBERS.

The Germans evidently count on evading their treaty obligations to a very large extent. They seem to imagine that the opportunity to do this is theirs in consequence of weakness or dissension among the allies and indifference in the United States. They seem to believe that political campaign partisanship in this country and propaganda through German-Americans have brought about widespread sentiment sympathetic to the lightening of Germany's burden under the treaty and even to her repudiation of solemnly pledged obligations. But the Germans are misled. American preoccupation, forgetfulness and indifference (among the dominant classes of real Americans) have by no means reached such limits as a few recent and representative utterances will show.

In a letter to the New York Tribune referring to the propaganda in this country directed toward the lightening of Germany's burden, John Kendrick Bangs says the purpose of this propaganda is solely "to arouse sympathy for a gang of bandits at the expense of those the bandits robbed." The Allies are absolutely right, says the New York Times. "In demanding that the general as well as the physical punishment of Germany be carried out," for Germany "must for years not be made to feel that her unwarlike and wicked deeds have shed a great gulf between her and other nations." If Germany were the older and the allies were asking for her better, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger, "we would not send off a lot of money to bear the harsh grinding of the German boot on helpless Europe and the slave 'humming' of the German mailed fist on every conference table."

Such utterances are numerous, showing that the real American has not forgotten and is even apprehensive lest Germany escape her just desserts.

BAND CONCERTS IN YE OLDEN TIME

Salvation Army Band Starts the Old Times on a Series of Reminiscences of the Days When Burger's Band Played on Academy Green.

"The people in this town are certainly music loving, excepting those idiots tooting their horns," remarked the Old Times to a neighbor as they stood at the corner of Wall and John streets near the Lister County National Bank, listening to a concert given a few nights ago by the staff band of the Salvation Army. As the Old Times waved a finger at a number of automobiles passing the corner it was evident the remark was not meant as a reflection on the musicians but that the "idiots tooting the horns" were the chauffeurs who had been applying the pleasure of the listeners with their autos made unaccommodably. When the band had finished a selection the Old Times remarked, "I wish they would have band concerts again on the Academy Green like Ab Burger used to give during the summer months thirty-five or more years ago. The folks used to enjoy them and come out in crowds to hear the concerts. I know they have concerts down at Kingston Point after-noon and evenings, and once in a while at Joy's Woods that they now call Forsyth Park, but that is too far for an old fellow like me to go, even if I go on a trolley car."

I went once to Forsyth Park to hear a concert, when a friend took me in his automobile, and I enjoyed it as the band played fine. Only the other day I read in a newspaper that Mr. Harding who is running for president once blew a horn in a band, and I'll bet there are a number of men in Kingston who belonged some time or other to a brass band either in this city or of some country band, either blowing a horn or hitting a bass drum or the cymbals. I played the cymbals for a couple of years with Peter's band in Saugerties and always since took an interest in brass bands. A few weeks ago I read in The Freeman that Jim Pierce who is seventy-six years of age and was drum major of the Old Twentieth Regiment during the civil war marched in the firemen's parade in town. He is an old timer and has had brass bands of his own."

After the Salvation Army band had played another number the Old Times became reminiscent again, after he had applauded, saying, "I'll bet there ain't many left in Kingston that remember the first bands around here." There were two first ones that I remember, one called the Rondout band and the other the Kingston band, that played on horns. There was also a Kingston Sheepskin band in 1860, being Fette Marquart who played a fife. Doc Freer who pounded a bass drum with a drum stick, a each hand hitting each head of the drum, and William McLaughlin and William Vallette as snare drummers. The two snare drummers were only boys and the Sheepskin band was in big demand when Lincoln and Hamilton, Douglas and Johnson, Hancock and Lane and Bill and Everett were the candidates for president and vice-president. They went to Albany, New York, Stone Ridge and along the river furnishing marching music for the political parades. Major Vallette of the city assessors office was one of the drummer boys and Doc Freer a bass drum in a minor position of his son, David Freer, of this city.

The Kingston band had Bob Heldridge for a leader and teacher and they practiced upstairs over Hiram Radcliff's butcher shop on John street which was in the stone building now owned by the county on the corner of Crown and John street. Hiram Radcliff belonged to the band and so did Ed Green who was a shoemaker on Wall street near Pearl, and he used to stick his head out of scuttle hole on the roof and practice evenings, the music from his trumpet or horn being heard for blocks. Albert G. Nichols was a member and a copper trumpet or cornet, I think, is in a glass case in the Old Senate House. Other members were Larry Schwab, Jimmy Ellings, Bill Hill, a snare drummer, Lew Ben Van Wagener, Benjamin F. Vallette who played a euphonium, Jimmy Van Vleet and others who I have forgotten. They had a long band wagon and traveled about Lister county, there being a half circle made of staves at the rear of the wagon in which the bass drum was placed. Several years ago I saw one of those big bass drums, that looked like the half of one of Miller's tobacco hogheads on North Front street. It was owned by the Hendricks who now lives on Lucas avenue. Was told that the late William H. Hendricks, father of the old bass drum in the Revolutionary war. Have been told that he's son, George Hendricks, who lives on Lucas avenue, has it yet. There was a camp around here then known as Camp Year, who thought he could play a horn and be joined by the Hendricks but one night at practice he pulled out a horse-doodle which he whirled around and the horse broke up the band moving and then ran away out of the band. "George couldn't organize the brass band down in Kingston before the civil war, in the 1840's, but later I took the name Twentieth Regiment band and kept that name for a great many years. Mr. Tupper was one of the greatest clarinet players in the country and a great teacher and words of music were his name good musicians through his teaching. Play a long time he had a few orchestras that played at George's hall and at the dance in Kingston and Kingston. Arty back Lister Street, Fred Pugh and Matt Van Suren who lived on Camp were members of George's band."

Also Larry Schwab, James Wood, George Thompson and James Williams. Voltaire Burgerin at one time was the bass drummer. A number of years ago the band had practice rooms up the back of the office of George Meach's brewery on Malone street, near McKee street, and went to a few with Fred Pugh and the social gatherings after the practice was an enjoyable event as there was no Voltaire act then. Jerome Williams has been in the music business for forty years or more and he organized Williams' band in the early 60's that was a rival of Gumbler's band for a long time. He also had a fine orchestra. Ab Burger for years was leader of Burger's band that played all over the country and he too had an orchestra that furnished music at the Kingston Opera House for years and played at all the balls and parties. Years ago out of town orchestras would be hired and I remember F. Seyers, also Doda-worth's, both of New York, that played when I was a young man at the military balls at the armory. This was during the time of the civil war, and the armory I mean was where St. Joseph's Church stands, corner Wall and Main streets. They were well affairs with society, all out and the colonel, major, captains and first and second lieutenants in gold braid, brass buttons and in uniform. Lew Hammond used to come from Poughkeepsie and play at firemen's balls, and Moscow's would come up from Newburgh at times, also But's orchestra from Poughkeepsie. Later, besides Gumbler and Williams, there came Jack Abrams, Ab. Burger, Jacob H. Ellis and Jimmy Wood's orchestra, and Barney Murray who played the accordion had an orchestra that was always in demand during the winter dancing season in the towns around. From what I read in the papers there are now Shurtz's orchestra, Muller's orchestra, Mel-lot's, Crooby's and half a dozen other ones. George Muller, is leader of the Kingston City band succeeded to the brass band business after Burger and Williams, and his band for quite a time held their practice at Weyra's bottle house at Maiden Lane and Broadway, Walter Kelland, a great cornetist, came to Kingston, with a circus and liked the place so well he stayed here. After a while he organized the Pythian Band and it was connected with Franklin Lodge. One time they traveled with Luke Ford's vaudeville show that busted up. Kelland became insane, the cause being said to be worry over the killing of his brother, Ted, by a young man whom he had befriended, one night in Kelland's saloon over there in John street. The murderer was caught after running away and hanged in the Kingston jail. There was St. Joseph's Total Abstinence Benevolent brass band here once, organized about 1872 or 73. Ab. Burger being the teacher. It played on St. Patrick's Day, and when the society gave entertainments but did not last over a couple of years."

After another interruption by tooting automobile horns, while one of the Salvation bandmen was making an address, the Old Times continued, saying: "One of the best fiddlers around here a number of years ago was old Jack Abrams. He went around on crutches, but he never tired of playing. He would saw away for ten hours a night at country dances, six nights a week and was always jolly. He had two boys, Ed and John who both became fine musicians, going to Troy from here a long time ago. That new Citizen's brass band is a good one, as is the Kingston City band, and I only wish there was more parades or band concerts some place handy by so I could go and hear them. I go over Saturday night down to Bernette's corner to hear the new Salvation Army band that Captain Young has organized and I want to say that as an old man who once belonged to a band himself, that Captain Young has got them boys and girls in fine shape. Yes, sir, I can tell you that the people of this city are music loving, as this crowd, and all other crowds that ways gather at band concerts show." concluded the Old Times as he and the man whom he had been addressing walked away after the Salvation Army Staff band had finished its last number.

Positive Examination. The grossly short, which denotes everything being or good, never teaches the beautiful girl who is always in his company. He is always in the company of the best and the most beautiful and the most beautiful. There are no other any explanation for this. HOMESPUN YARN.

Cheap, nourishing, palatable in mush and milk—good any time; as a Sunday night lunch it can't be best.

An emergency might arise when even the man-guest would appreciate mending basket placed in the guest room.

Some folks have great success with their iceless refrigerators. The state college at Ithaca, N. Y., will tell you how to make one that costs but little.

Juvenile musical geniuses and clean fingers don't always go together. Never mind; piano keys are easily cleaned by rubbing with alcohol.

With plenty of flowers to be had for the picking, it's well to remember that many a hospital shut-in would be grateful for the dash of color roses would bring to the bedside.

Bonde making use house and yard attractive, flowers add actual money value to the place. Send for F 106 to the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. This bulletin gives directions and suggestions for planting.

Black unbarred mosquito netting is a satisfactory and not unsightly substitute for the more expensive wire screen. If the netting is cut two or three inches larger than the opening, the edge may be rolled so as to make a substantial mass through which to tuck.

METACABONTS.

Metacabonta, Aug. 5.—The Sun-day school will hold their annual pic-nic on Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 11, on the school house lawn. Plenty of good music will be furnished by the Ellenville band and every thing good to eat. So come.

Was Suddenly in New York.

Just after he had parted from a son of 18, P. L. Mohr, 22, a mil-lionaire for the National Summit Com-mittee, died in the lobby of the Man-hattan Club apartment, No. 265 West 47th street, New York city, on Thursday night. Mohr apparently was formerly with the United States Navy. Mohr's home was in Poughkeeps. At the rooming house at No. 628 West 161st street, where he had been in New York, it was said he had been in last week after cutting some hair in a restaurant, but other-else seemed in perfect health. The body was taken to the morgue for an autopsy.

Ride Farther on Goodyear Tires in Your Small Car

It is tire performance, not price, that decides what you really pay; hence, do not experiment with tires made to sell at sensationally low prices.

You can secure in Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3, 30 x 3 1/2 and 31 x 4-inch sizes, a high relative value not exceeded even in the famous Goodyear Cord Tires on the world's finest automobiles.

Goodyear experience and care are applied to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires; take advantage of the opportunity to get true Goodyear mileage and economy.

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cord Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cord Fabric, All-Weather Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly changes when such true protection is available? 30 x 3 1/2 size $4.50 in waterproof bag

EASIER ACCESS TO LAND FOR FARMER

Dr. Butterfield, President of the American Agricultural College, is an address at the conference of agricultural teachers at the state college of agriculture in session here.

Dr. Butterfield said this country is now in the midst of a renaissance of idealism as a reaction from the materialism which prevailed during the war.

He predicted that the pendulum of popular feeling would swing back again, notwithstanding the fact that there seems to be little recognition of impending change.

Dr. Butterfield outlined four general aspects of the "new day" which is to dawn in America, and in which the American farmer is to have a part. One will be a persistent drive toward industrial democracy; another will be political action by industrial groups; a third true internationalism in the minds of the American people and a realization that the world is a unit and no nation can stand by itself; and fourth, a gradual subordination of purely economic motives and tests of success to questions of human welfare.

As to Method Farming, "Civilization will come to recognize the right of those who work to participate in decisions affecting their welfare," said Dr. Butterfield. This will mean, he said, that the farmer will have easier access to the land. Either the conditions necessary to ownership will be made easier, or a system of long-term leases will be introduced which will make a land productive rather than a speculative commodity. Some way will be found to prevent, rationally and easily, the influx to small towns of retired farmers.

He also predicted an enlargement of agricultural credit facilities for both long and short-term loans, and the organization of the distributing and processing of soil products to reduce the present waste and toll between producer and consumer. He spoke of the present amount and number of these tolls as being too great to be efficient. The speaker said he had been in direct touch with the great political movements of farmers in Winnipeg and North Dakota, and that although the political method is not the best one for farmers to make themselves heard, the results attained by farmers' parties in government are permanent, since they are the results of the organized influence of agriculture on legislation.

Farm Bureau Programs

He pointed out that the programs of the farm bureau organizations, although not political bodies, call for important legislative and administrative changes, and prophesied that if these changes do not come through the old methods of being presented to political parties, they will be forced through more direct political action. Agriculture is coming to realize that it must have the right thing for itself recognized.

In respect to the feeling of internationalism which is due, Dr. Butterfield said that this unity of all the countries will be more economic than political. Only constantly reiterated practice in doing things together will bring peace and real world efficiency. Because of the immense undeveloped resources of Russia, India and other parts of the earth, sooner or later the production and marketing of the world's food and other soil products must be integrated, organized and carried on as a world problem and not as the sole concern of each nation. If all are to function most efficiently, that improvement in human welfare is more important than economic advantage is emphasized in the growth of the country life movement in this country. Dr. Butterfield pointed out. Not only farmers, but every class of persons and even

"You Can't Beat Us for Real Tire Wear"

This seems to be the general opinion of Ford, Chevrolet and Maxwell owners who are using the new Goodyear All-Weather Tread Climber Tires on their cars.

And they certainly must be sincere because after they've tested one of these tires it's usually just a matter of time until they've back for more.

The new Goodyear Climber is bigger, better and stronger.

That is why you'd like to start one on your car.

the children must be taught to think about and cope with economic, social and political questions as well as the technical problems of their occupation.

Duties of Organization. He mentioned that one of the principal duties of farmers' organizations is not only to look after the interests of agriculture, but to express the thought of farmers on all national questions which affect the life of the people.

"The idea that if farmers are shown how to make more money, the better roads, better schools and better living conditions will come of themselves, is not true," said Dr. Butterfield.

"If economic advantage leads to human welfare, then Newport, Rhode Island, ought to be as near Heaven as we can get on earth. To be successful, democracy must be continuously at school to learn patriotism as well as technical facts."

BEARSVILLE

Bearsville, Aug. 3.—Leon P. Carey has returned to his home in Jersey City after spending a couple of weeks at Arthur Shultz's.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Happy and children of Kingston called on Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shultz Sunday afternoon.

The Misses Mary and Eleanor Shultz of Jersey City are spending an indefinite time with Mrs. Arthur Shultz.

H. Lewis Reynolds and Miss Gertrude D. Shultz motored to Bearsville Monday night, where they attended the birthday party of the latter's cousin, Miss Hazel Myers. Mrs. Josephine Happy is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Emory Happy of Kingston.

Mrs. Richard Lasher and daughter spent Wednesday with Mrs. Sheldon Lasher.

Oecil Johnston and brother, Edward, of Pennsylvania, are spending an indefinite time in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey of Kansas City called on Mrs. Sheldon Lasher Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Hare of Poughkeepsie spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shultz.

Robbie Dalley and friend, Miss Gladys Knudsen, of Newark, N. J., and John Cochran and Miss Myra Lasher of this place, attended a party at Dr. M. B. Downer's of Woodstock Tuesday night.

Mrs. Charles Shultz visited Miss Myra Lasher Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Almina Shultz and grandchildren are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. E. Baker of Tarrytown.

Not a Member of Flavor.

One who evidently speaks from experience says a girl's surprise in getting her first kiss is to find that there is no taste to it. Taste, indeed! The palate is properly numb at such an important. A kiss isn't a matter of flavor. If it were, the Lord knows there are endless enough. Where there are thrill, desire, thrill, affection and tenderness, who is to be blamed for thinking of taste? —Louisville Live.

COFFEE

comes into its own

Gradually our old "bugaboos" pass away. Who today can realize that the Telephone was first received with jibes and jeers? It was called a "plaything."

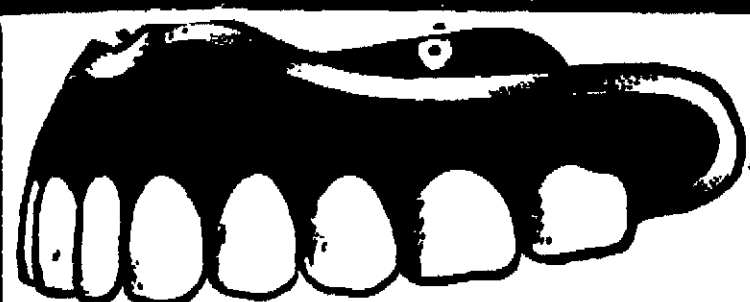

Even coffee—this rarest of Nature's gifts—is sometimes assailed by people of super-sensitive nerves and over-wrought digestions.

Truth is—the use of coffee brings the greatest good to the greatest number. Coffee makes normal people more normal. Coffee makes healthy people more healthy.

Brazil is noted for its large coffee production. Its people are inveterate coffee drinkers—yet uniformly robust and healthy.

Coffee is now, and ever will be the world's popular beverage. Drink good pure, wholesome coffee. Get the goodness of the genuine taste. There is no substitute.

CHINESE SHAKE OFF OLD CUSTOMS

"New" China, Its Progressiveness and the Change in Its Personality —Says Celestial Likes U. S. Better Than Britain.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 6.—"I do not know why writers of fiction should be so fond of portraying the Chinaman as a person with evil qualities, who is able to control his emotions so well that by means of a bland expression on his face he can completely hide his real feelings."

"The belief that every Chinaman possesses this power may be picturesque, but it is none the less incorrect. The inevitability of the Chinaman is a myth."

"He is just as sociable, good-tempered, generous as the rest of us. He works hard, is intelligent and honorable, and has a great capacity for friendship. In short, he is a very human being."

"After all human nature is pretty much the same everywhere, and the Chinaman is very little different from any of us."

"I know him well, and he is no more inscrutable than the rest of us are to one another, for we do not wear our hearts on our sleeves. The Chinaman is far more like us than many Europeans and only the language barrier leads to misconception. You cannot get to know any man unless you know his language or he knows yours."

The Chinaman is very fair. He makes a lot of allowance for us. If he visits our country—I am speaking, of course, of the educated class—he is chilled by our exclusiveness, for we are certainly not as sympathetic toward our Eastern friends as we might be."

"He has always found Americans more sympathetic. They introduce him to their homes, and such an international courtesy appeals to him. Here, however, people are inclined to be stand-offish, and his admiration for Britain has to meet a severe test. However, he is quick to attribute our conduct to a national coldness that is directed, unintentionally, not so much against him as the world outside the British Isles. He generously overlooks the rebuff, and thinks only of our good qualities."

"Our coldness does not deter the Chinese from rising up in increasing numbers. They greatly admire our education. The Emperor has an English tutor, while the late President of the Republic sent his three sons to Cheltenham, and he was exceedingly pleased with the result."

"The desire on the part of the Chinese to improve their education according to Western ideals is on the increase, and there is a noteworthy development too with regard to sport. Games that formerly were foreign to the Chinese are now becoming common features of their life. Athletic meetings are held regularly, and running, jumping, football and other forms of sport are popular."

"The best lawn tennis player in North China is a Chinaman; he has beaten all European competitors."

"There has been one curious effect. The missionaries cannot get the boys to go to school now, because of their fondness for sport. The Chinese student used to be beset by idleness and idleness, now he is quite the reverse, through his liking for sport."

"So far as other forms of amusement are concerned the theatre is very popular, for the Chinese have always been great actors."

"When I first went to China the women, except those of the lower classes, lived in seclusion. With very rare exceptions they never appeared in public under any pretext."

"Now so great a change has taken place that they even appear at dances. Some are very charming women, and the freedom enjoyed today is in striking contrast to the cloistered life of the past."

"Excellent English and American schools are provided for them, and many of the girls travel abroad to complete their education. It is all part of a very enlightened policy, but there were a few difficulties to be encountered at the outset."

"Remember visiting the capital of one of the provinces and staying for a few days with the Governor. He was carrying on an anti-foot-binding crusade, and his work consisted in not only preventing the young girls from binding their feet, according to the custom, but in ordering the adults to unbind. His troubles were very numerous and he confessed sadly to me that he found it far more difficult to deal with the ladies than the general government of the country."

"Today, however, the women instead of hindering progress, are endeavoring to expedite it by all means in their power. They have not yet taken any part in the government, but they are deeply interested in politics and women's rights, and they take part in numerous street demonstrations. They are not violent, but they are very much in earnest, and I have no doubt they will play their part eventually in the pronounced 'public opinion' that is now being developed in China."

"It is very interesting to note that China has her lady doctors, some of whom are said to be very good surgeons. They work principally in the missions and Government hospitals, and their education has been gained in Europe or America."

"Of course, although conditions have changed so much it should be remembered that China has always had distinguished women."

"The late Empress Dowager was a wonderful woman, her impressive character, her personality and worth."

"Very gracious and with a thorough knowledge of her people, the Empress Dowager, which were respected throughout the length and breadth of the land. She knew the country remarkably well, and from her childhood exercised a great influence."

WAR MARRIAGES POOR BARGAINS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Aug. 3.—Are war brides tiring of their husbands?
This is the question the sociologists are asking while keeping an eye on the Suffolk county superior court divorce dockets, where startling figures are attracting attention.
Whether it is war brides or war husbands there is one ray of light and hope. Although the divorce figures are swelled to balloon size, the marriage license have likewise registered at high and are keeping fair pace.
For divorces, the largest number ever recorded for a year in the superior court was in 1915, when the high water mark of 1,799 was reached.
Then, for the first six months of 1916, 935 suits were entered.
By far the greater number of divorces are granted to women, and far the greater number of these are for desertion. So it would seem that if the war had entered into the scheme of marriage and divorce, the hero of the war is not doing his share of matrimonial duty.

BARNETT MAKES GOOD

In Handling Clerks And Goes To Philadelphia.

The Ridgefield Park, N. J., Review says:

Robert J. Barnett, the efficient and obliging secretary-treasurer of the Ridgefield Park Trust Company, has resigned his position, effective August 21st, to accept a similar position with the Ninth Title & Trust Company of Philadelphia on September 1st.

The new position is, of course, of much greater importance in banking circles and remunerative accordingly.

Mr. Barnett has earned his advancement because of the years of faithful service and study of banking and trust company methods since entering the employ of the local institution as an office assistant on January 2, 1911.

Remaining with the then First National Bank a year, he accepted a position in New York city, returning to his first love in 1914, working his way up to the cashier's position in 1917, which place he resigned in November to enter the naval service.

With the war over in 1918 Mr. Barnett accepted his old place, when John C. Stevens was compelled to resign because of illness. Coming in to help out in an emergency while still wearing his uniform, Barnett has kept pushing along the business till it has reached its present high water mark of deposits and general business.

Mr. Barnett is one of the youngest bankers in the country to have such a responsible position as his new place will be, but his hosts of friends here know he will continue to advance to far greater heights because of his natural accomplishments.

The retiring cashier was twenty-six years of age on the 24th—Saturday—and finally closed the acceptance details of his new position the day previous.

Mr. Barnett was married February, 1915, to Miss Jeannette E. Duane of Kingston, N. Y., and both have made for themselves places in our social and fraternal circles that will not easily be filled.

Will Clear Boundary Trail.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Prince Rupert, B. C., Aug. 3.—

Boundary lines between Canada and Alaska north of Prince Rupert are to be determined accurately by engineers of the Dominion and American governments this summer. A party of Canadian engineers from Ottawa arrived here recently and have begun their survey. They will work north until they meet a party of American engineers who are working south from Uluks river. The two expeditions will clear a boundary trail out fifteen years ago and erect new cairns and monuments to mark the dividing lines between the two countries. The work of defining the boundary clearly is due to the silver strike in the coast mountains. The silver fields lie on both sides of the line and in the present state of the world, which flag their claims are located. This is an important question between the nations, as the silver mines promise rich development.

Question: What do you do with your shoes when you wear them out?
Answer: I wear them back in the house again.—Boys' Life For August.

AT THE THEATRE

"Alma Nanny Valentine" at Kean's Theatre and Saturday.

But Loretta in the play that proves so heart is bargain-pretty "Alma Nanny Valentine." Paul Armstrong's internationally celebrated creek drama at Kean's tonight and tomorrow. This is the drama that made a low-breaker who was also a heart-breaker, one of the most fascinating characters in literature, triumphant in the theatre everywhere in the world, interpreted by a star of acknowledged genius, whose following is legion. Kingman news and Gray Photographs are also programmed.

Caroline Griffith in "The Struggle," an interesting story of love, romance, politics, adventure and emotion, an extraordinary drama of a girl's fight to live and how she manages through a hard struggle to triumph at a home, at the Auditorium. Also a Fox Sunshine comedy and latest news weekly. Tomorrow, Pauline Frederick in "Bonds of Love" and William Duquesne in "The Silent Avenger."

Make dates now for next Wednesday night for Gus Hill's big minstrel show. A big street parade at midnight and free concert at night are all in your day's programme.

WEST PARK.

West Park, Aug. 5.—An entertainment will be held at "Heathcote," the home of Miss Hilda Smith on Saturday evening, Aug. 7. Every one welcome. The entertainment will begin at 7:30. Afterwards a business meeting of the W. P. N. A. will be held at which every chairman of committees should report, also the whole community is urged to be present.

What is a pneumatic truck tire expected to do

YOU hear a good deal of discussion nowadays over the future of pneumatics in motor truck transportation.

More truck owners would be able to approach this question intelligently, perhaps, if the facts about pneumatic truck tires were only a little better known.

The first pneumatic truck tire created by anyone was given to the public by The United States Rubber Company in 1911, and the U. S. Nobby Cord is today first among pneumatic truck tires.

Designed, built and sold to meet the needs of motor truck owners everywhere—and for no other purpose.

If you are interested in pneumatic truck tires come in and let us give you a few more facts. We believe you will be interested in what we have to tell you.

FLORISTS ADDRESS BURGEVIN PLANT

Visitors From Massachusetts Resided at Hotel and Beauty of Local Conservatories—Inspected at Lake Katrine.

A delightful day and a delightful time was had by over 50 representative men in horticulture and horticulture Thursday, who visited this city, a majority being members of the Lenox, Mass., Horticultural and Floricultural Society, who came here in autos on invitation of the Dutchess County Horticultural and Floricultural Society to make an inspection of the conservatories and extensive grounds of Valentin Burgevin, Inc., on Pearl street. The Dutchess county party also came in autos and all had arrived at about 10:30 a. m. The visitors were escorted to every part of the Burgevin place by George and David Burgevin and their employees, and it was a surprise to the Massachusetts men to see the acres of glass filled with flowering plants and vines, and all commented on the completeness of everything.

After over an hour of inspection there were talks among the visitors, cigars and sandwiches were passed around and enjoyed by the florists, and at 12:30, noon, the Dutchess county florists with their guests from the east and the Messrs. Burgevin and the employees of the latter, got into automobiles and were quickly en route for the Ashokan dam.

Stops were made on the bridges along the route and other points of interest along the New York boulevard and the views admired.

The party got back to this city about 2:30 o'clock and went direct to Lake Katrine, where John J. Cusco had in readiness a clam bake that had been ordered. About 50 sat down to the bake, among the guests being the employees of Valentin Burgevin, Inc., and for about two hours the corps of colored waiters were kept busy serving the men who grow fruits, flowers and vegetables in a scientific manner, full justice being done to the menu prepared. At about 5:30 o'clock the visitors departed in their touring cars for their homes, declaring it the end of a perfect day.

Among those in the party representing the Lenox Society were W. Cusco, superintendent of "High-Iron" Lenox, owned by W. B. O.

Word was received today from John M. Reddin, of Denver, Colorado, supreme master of the Knights of Columbus, of the re-appointment of James J. Nolan of Albany, as master of the Knights of Columbus for the Third New York district, which includes the counties and assemblies located in the territory between Poughkeepsie and Plattsburg.

NOLAN AGAIN DISTRICT MASTER

During Mr. Nolan's term just closed the Fourth Degree has made marked progress and considerable interest has been created among the members in the various assemblies throughout the district. Announcement is also made at this time of an event of unusual importance to the members of the Knights of Columbus of Kingston, of the coming exemplification of the Fourth Degree, which will take place in Albany on "Columbus Day," October 12, 1934, when members of the order from every section of the state will gather there to witness the conferring of this degree upon candidates from every place in the district. Inasmuch as this degree is conferred only once a year much interest is attached to it. The ceremonies promise to be most interesting and within a short time committees will be appointed to look after the care and entertainment of the visiting knights. It is also expected that many of the supreme officials of the order will be present in Albany on that day not only to witness the exemplification of the degree but to attend the banquet which will take place in the evening. Complete details will be announced later by Mr. Nolan under whose direction the degree will be conferred.

Wonderful Scenery.

What is claimed to be the smallest balance of precision used for important work is that of the United States bureau of standards, a little more than a foot tall in its glass case. It takes leads up to two grams, and is accurate to one-thousandth of a milligram, or about .000,016 of a gram. It will weigh the ink of a signature. The case is dust-proof, and to avoid influence of the weigher's body heat the weights on the scale may be manipulated by a long rod from another room.

BANKS LOST HIS CAR IN NEW YORK

M. Banks, the furrier at 214 Fair street, upstairs, mourns the loss of his five-passenger automobile, which was stolen during Wednesday night in The Bronx. Mr. Banks had autoed to New York to purchase furs and was stopping with a cousin on 175th street, the Bronx. As his cousin, who owns a touring car, kept it in a garage at the rear of his cottage, there was no room for Banks's car and he thought it would be as safe to "stable" it on the street in front of the house as it would be in Kings- ton, so he left it out alongside the curb for the night. Thursday morning it was missing, also a rain coat which was in the car. He had shut off the gasoline when he left the car but the thief or thieves had taken the car down a hill about four blocks long from the house toward Mottman avenue, and from there track of the stolen car has disappeared. Mr. Banks notified the police of The Bronx and Manhattan. It was insured for fire and accident but not for theft.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Aug. 4.—Miss Allie Parnell of Long Branch, N. J., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Parsell, Sr., on Broadway.

Miss Marie and Sally Solomon of Oklahoma are spending some time at the home of Thomas Mac Donald.

David Van Wagoner of Schoenectady is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. Newton Van Wagoner, on Main street.

The Misses Helen Henry, Nan Mac Donald, Gertrude Whalen and Margaret Flynn of Port Ewen and Miss Sara Ball of Holyoke, Mass., are spending a few days at Ulster Park.

Mrs. Ida Britt is ill at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emily Post, on Hayard street.

Mrs. William Hotelling spent Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. A. Wurts Taylor, on Green street.

Miss Agnes McNelis spent Wednesday at Orange Lake.

Miss Sara Ball, Mrs. Kathryn Rutherford and niece, Sarah Ball, of Holyoke, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Kathryn Whalen on Hoyt street.

George Sherman and son, Allen Sherman, were motor guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wells on Broadway Wednesday.

Moving pictures this evening in Pythian Hall at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hahn are having a concrete walk laid in front of their residence on Broadway.

Chester DeGraff is doing the work. Mrs. P. J. Whalen and daughter, Betty, who have been visiting Mrs. Kathryn Whalen on Hoyt street, have returned home.

Mrs. Anna Hicks, who has been the guest of Mrs. Matilda J. Major on Schuyler street, has returned to her home at Paterson, N. J.

John Neal, ticket agent of the N. Y. C. & H. R. at Rosendale, spent Wednesday evening at his home on Salem street.

Five new five passenger Oakland automobiles passed through Port Ewen Thursday from Buffalo to Newark, N. J. The demand for these cars is greater than the supply.

Merritt Every took a party of seventeen to Orange Lake, Wednesday in his covered car.

It has been suggested by one of our enterprising wide awake citizens that Port Ewen organize a Community League, with power. Think this matter over seriously and see how it would benefit this beautiful Hudson river village by so doing. The time, place and date of meeting will be announced later.

Some of our young people are feeling very sore and heart sick by being cut $4 and $5 in charity pay for pick- ing cherries for a farmer living near the village. The parents are in no way and intend to protect their children's rights by forcing pay- ment.

submitted clerk at Washington would spend hours in painstaking research and then, furnished with two data, the prospective foreign trader would communicate with a commission house in Shanghai, only to be told that the Chinese don't ever stockpile. When such a letter came to the division, papers were written in reply asking for what purpose the information is sought.—The Nation's Business.

LAID BY FOR THE WINTER

Housewives of Early New York Disatisfied With Less Than a Six-Month Supply.

The eleventh hour, or, rather, six o'clock rush to the delicatessen store that marks the approach of dinner in these days of frenzied house-wifery would have seemed a strange phenomenon to the good housewives of old New York. They would have felt ill provided should they have had less than six months' provisions in the larder.

According to the memory of one small boy of seventy-five years ago the thrifty Dutch folk who lived along the west side of what is now downtown New York laid in stores in October and November to last until April or May. They bought a quarter of beef, a hog or a sheep to furnish the pieces de resistance of the winter's menu. The beef was corned or smoked. The pork and mutton was similarly cured and put away. The smoking was done in public smoke-houses, maintained for profit.

A barrel of flour, two or three of apples and potatoes added the vegetable content to the menu. Other supplies to lend variety were laid in in lesser quantities. All sorts of farm products were purchasable in the fall at minimum prices, because at that time many sailing vessels and barges came down the river from upstate laden with stores. As winter and the closing of the river approached the farmers and merchants grew anxious to dispose of their stocks and the townfolk consequently bought at an advantage, which they were not slow to take.—New York Evening Sun.

Women Demand Grit.
If you have the grit you can command respect. The world doesn't want any flinching apologies. That may serve a purpose under some "weak sister" circumstances, but never under the greatest need. Some folks wonder why it is that "all the world loves a lover." The fact is a lover must have grit. Women want their heroes to be leaders, daring, irresistible. They want men who do things. They even like to be made do a few things they protest but enjoy just the same.
Weaklings do not dare such audacity.
They fear they will lose the maiden's smiles. As a matter of fact it's the daring and the assurance that wins.
"Faint heart never won fair lady" we are told. Even in lovemaking you must have grit. And what's more the fellow that does not have grit doesn't deserve to win. Why should a woman waste herself on a molly-coddle?
Be a man if you would win.—Grit.

GERMANY WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, Aug. 6.—"Germany will endeavor to maintain neutrality at all costs, whether pressure comes against us from the east or the west," declared Dr. Walter Von Simons, foreign secretary, today.

This was in complete line with his statement on the same subject in the national assembly yesterday.

"The situation is extremely serious in view of unconfirmed reports that England will go to war. Even if this is true, it will not make me change my mind. If England goes to war she would not do so for Poland, for the sake of France. If Germany permits her neutrality to be infringed, she will have first a civil war and then a renewal of the European war."

In his address to the national assembly, Dr. Von Simons said:
"Any attempt to permit Germany to be used as the base of allied operations against Russia would be the signal for an outbreak and the faction responsible for the outbreak would receive the support of Soviet Russia."

Dr. Von Simons said that even conciliatory promises by the allies to modify the treaty of Versailles would not permit such an outbreak.

"Neutrality is the only policy we can pursue because that is the only one that would give us a united people," added the foreign secretary.

He declared that Germany wants to do what she can to prevent a new European war.

Aspirin and Quinine.
A Spanish physician has found as the result of a year's experience that the combination of aspirin and quinine is undesirable and may be dangerous.
According to the Scientific American's account of the investigation, the catalytic action of aspirin in the stomach changes the quinine to a poisonous derivative called quino-toxin. The poison is said to cause death, though the Spanish investigator records no fatal cases.

Odd Wedding Arrangements.
A young professor of physical culture married a beautiful and athletic pupil of his in the suburbs of Paris.
The couple appeared before the mayor in tennis costume, and after the ceremony the wedding party sat down to breakfast on the banks of the Seine. Hardly was the coffee finished than, on a given signal, the whole party retired and reappeared in bathing costume. Later the couple started on a bicycle tour for a honeymoon.

Different Thermometric Scales.
The scale employed by a thermometer is indicated by one of the initial letters, F. C. R., or by the name, Fab-rinhelt, Centigrade, Reaumur. The degrees of one thermometric scale are readily converted into those of another. Following is their relationship:
100 degrees F. equals 100 degrees C.
equals 80 degrees R. Therefore 1 degree F. equals five-ninths of a degree C., equals four-ninths of a degree R.

SAYS READOPT WAR ORPHANS

Editor Harold Ross of American Legion Weekly Urges Care by Peers of Unfortunates.

Harold W. Ross, formerly managing editor of the Stars and Stripes, which was the official publication of the American expeditionary forces in France during the war, has been appointed editor of the American Legion Weekly. Official magazine of the American Legion.

Mr. Ross, a native of Colorado, entered the newspaper field more than ten years ago and worked on various papers in Salt Lake City, San Francisco, New Orleans, Atlanta, New York and Panama, but chiefly in San Francisco and the West. He enlisted as a private in April, 1917, and sailed for France August 1. He was sent to the first officers' training camp at Langres, France, but was detached before receiving a commission and assigned to duty on the Stars and Stripes when that publication was started in February, 1918, and remained with it, most of the time as managing editor, until his career came to an end with the homecoming of the A. E. F. He received a citation from General Pershing and recently received a medal from the French government for organizing the plan which led to the adoption of 3,567 war orphans by American soldiers overseas.

As editor of the Weekly Mr. Ross is now conducting an active campaign for the readoption of these same orphans by the more than 9,000 American Legion posts throughout the United States and in many foreign countries.

HE ADOPTS FRENCH ORPHAN

Le Roy Tucker, Former Captain, Aide Legion's Campaign in Memory of His Father.

Another contribution of $75 for the adoption of a French war orphan, in the Legion's campaign to adopt 3,000 late proteges of the A. E. F., making a total of four to date, was received at Legion national headquarters during the week ending May 29. The adopter is Le Roy Tucker, formerly captain, Twenty-fifth Engineer Service company, Twentieth Engineers, now living at 1501 West Sixth Climate and Longevity.

The general death rate is found to increase with rising temperature and to diminish with a falling thermometer. These conclusions are a result of a study of about 400,000 deaths in New York in connection with the weather on the day of the death. The peculiarities seem to apply to all seasons. Variety, as in English or Canadian weather, is healthful and stimulating and it is believed that some variability is as essential as proper humidity.

NEWBURGH COPS GETTING READY

According to the Newburgh News the police force of that city have started practice for the opening game of the season which will be played with the Kingston police force at the Athletic Field here for the benefit of the police pension fund. The Kingston force are also getting in shape, and expect to "cop" the game without much trouble. The Newburgh cops are "as enthusiastic as a bunch of kids," says the News, and they may just as well be happy now for after the game they won't be feeling as cheerful as they do now. This game will be the banner game of the season. The date fixed is Wednesday afternoon, August 15. The local force will soon have the tickets ready, and it is expected that they will readily dispose of them. Those buying a ticket may not only expect to see a rattling good game, but will also be helping along a worthy cause.

GIFTS RECEIVED BY THE HOSPITAL

The gifts sent in during June and July to the Kingston City Hospital were most practical and greatly appreciated by the patients and the management.

Most gratifying was the response to the request made by the Ladies' Auxiliary for dresser scarfs and green covers made to measure. Mrs. James A. Betts sent in two sets of dresser scarfs. Mrs. Van Hovenberg and Miss Van Hovenberg five lovely scarfs. Mrs. G. D. DuBois two, and Mrs. Austin Slauon four. The Misses Bendure sent a set of bureau and washstand covers to match, beautifully made, for one of the memorial rooms.

A number of much needed screen covers came from Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mrs. Richard Tappan, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck. The Ladies' Auxiliary did considerable sewing for the hospital during the two months just past, and in addition some individual members made garments at home. Among those who made many such were Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Thomas Hayes and Mrs. E. H. Phillips. The Henrietta Wynkoop Guild made a number of children's garments.

Magazines and other reading matter for patients and nurses came from Dr. E. H. Loughran, Mrs. Teller Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck Mrs. William Hull, the Misses Bonesteel.

Mrs. G. W. Van Anden sent in ice-cream for patients and nurses. Mrs. W. H. Webb, six glasses of jelly. Mrs. Alexander Speers, candy. Mrs. William Simmons, jelly. Mrs. George Palmer, oranges; Mrs. William Hull, fruit; Mr. and Mrs. Feasel paper napkins; Mrs. Edward Merritt, jelly.

Flowers which were greatly enjoyed came from Mrs. Simmons, Miss Bonesteel, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Hammond and the Daughters of America.
